Communication Literacy

Statement of Purpose

Communication Literacy is a half-year course designed to introduce ninth grade students to literacy skills necessary to succeed as a writer in all high school level subject areas. This Common Core Standards aligned curriculum includes note-taking, organization, and reading comprehension strategies. Communication Literacy is also designed to introduce freshmen to the academic standards, requirements, and overall expectations for conducting research and presenting a research project at a high school level. Special emphasis is placed on devising and developing an effective thesis statement as well as the oral and visual presentation skills necessary to share their research through the use of multiple forms of media and technological resources.

This curriculum was written in accordance with the
NEW JERSEY COMMON CORE STATE STANDARDS for English Language Arts

The standards are located at <http://www.corestandards.org/ELA-Literacy>.
A full listing of the Grade 9 Common Core State Standards can be found at the end of this document.

Unit 2	One Marking Period

Grade 9 Communication Literacy

Unit 1

During Unit 1, students begin the process of understanding the essentials of high school level literacy. Strategies for effective note-taking are covered, as is summarizing and paraphrasing a text in order to enhance comprehension. Students are also introduced to the basics of conducting research and giving presentations. Ninth grade students explore the methods of citing an author’s text within their own work as well as establishing and formatting a work cited page. Students also focus on the methods of orally presenting information and research to an audience.

Unit 2

Unit 2 focuses on the application of skills acquired throughout Unit 1. During this unit, students conduct various research-based projects on a variety of topics as well as subjects in order to understand that research writing and presentation are cross-curricular skills. The methods of conducting research through the use of online databases as well as through the use of primary, secondary, and tertiary sources are stressed. Likewise, emphasis is placed on creating effective thesis statements and how to develop a thesis with facts, details, and accurate information from different sources and texts. Ninth grade students also examine the role oral presentation has in relating ideas and information to an audience. Presentation skills will be covered, developed, and practiced in order to prepare ninth grade students for the challenges of high school and beyond.
